

This summer, the Community Foundation of Southeastern Massachusetts will be working in New Bedford and Fall River to explore opportunities to realize an even more vibrant and diverse arts and culture community for both cities. Building on the successes already achieved, the Community Foundation needs your insights, thoughts, and vision to help us develop a plan that will take arts and creative expression to the next level. What we all talk about this summer will deeply inform a plan to develop the best courses of action to achieve a vision for each city that is well-informed by the community. What do you imagine?

New Bedford and Fall River are great places for the arts and creativity.

How do we make it better for everyone?

Come join the discussion and share your ideas on what the Community Foundation can do to help bring Arts, Culture & Creativity to a new level in your City.
